COMING ATTRACTIONS

What is the result when a man with a passion for phonetics meets a cockney flower girl with a gutter accent?—Pygmalion.

This clever, witty play by George Bernard Shaw will close our 1941-1942 Little Theatre season, and will be directed by Ann Gordon. Try-outs on Sunday, March 22, 7 p. m. at the Theatre.

Three one-act plays are to be presented April 17 and 18.

PLAY REVIEW

April 22, a discussion of HOLIDAY, by Phillip Barrie, led by Phil Garland.

May 13, Radio Theatre, led by Burke Ormsby.

THE LITTLE THEATRE LIBRARY

Have you noticed our new bookcase in the lobby? Anyone who has books, plays or script belonging to the Little Theatre are requested to telephone Mrs. Aaron Mandles, Proctor 2355 for collection. Wouldn't you like to contribute a suitable book toward the making of a fine library for our Little Theatre. All gifts will be most gratefully accepted.
