

TACOMA LITTLE THEATRE

(Characters in order of appearance)

"Johnny-the-Priest," Saloon Keeper Chris Henderson

Two Longshoremen

A Postman

Larry, Bartender      Bob Chapman

Chris Christopherson, Captain of the barge, "Simeon Winthrop"      Louis K Woodford

Marthy Owen, Chris' companion      Mary Simon<sup>5</sup>

Anna Christopherson, Chris' daughter      Dixie DeWitt

Two men of a steamer's crew

Mat Burke, a Stoker      Lew Tullis ) Fred Gilbert )

alternated (at dock in Boston).

ACT I

SCENE: "Johnny-the-Priest's" saloon near South Street, New York City.

TIME: Afternoon of a day in fall.

ACT II

SCENE: Ten days later. The stern of the deeply-laden barge, Simeon Winthrop, at anchor in the outer harbor of Provincetown, Mass. It is 10:00 o'clock at night. Dense fog shrouds the barge on all sides, and she floats motionless on a calm.

INTERMISSION: 10 minutes
(Coffee served in lobby)

ACT III

SCENE: The interior of the cabin on the barge Simeon Winthrop

TIME: Afternoon about a week later.

ACT IV

SCENE: Same as Act III.

TIME: About 9:00 o'clock of a foggy night two days later.

"ANNA CHRISTIE"

by Eugene
O'Neill

Caustic Comment by "Chris Christopherson".

"Waddy"

This was a Jim Foster production. Very arty. Even had the three leads dress separate from the rest of the herd in order to avoid anything that might tend to get the characters "out of character".

A well staged production; reputedly well done, but d--n poor box office. Playing dates:

May 9-10-11-12-13
16-17-18-19-20
1944

May 1944
Director: Jim Foster
588000