QUALITY SERVICE AND PERSONAL ATTENTION

WHO'S WHO IN THE CAST OF "VILLAGE GREEN"

By Dorothy Kahler

CLARK OBERLIES—"Judge Peabody". We promise you a treat in Clark Oberlies playing the role of the judge who has run nine times—unsuccessfully—for Senator. He is a retired banker and lumberman who came from Lincoln, Nebraska, nine years ago. Played then in "East Lynn" and "Tillie of Bloomsbury". One of Tacoma's most sought-after speakers.

GAY NEAL—"Zeke Bentham". If we told you how good Gay is in the role of the village drunkard he could sue us for slander! A newcomer from Spokane since July.

MARION SEYMOUR—"Margaret Peabody". We regularly attend meetings of the Marion-Seymour-Fan Club. She has taken part in not less than one production a year for the past 20 years.

PEGGY WRIGHT—"Norah" the maid. Remember maids? Peggy plays a most capable one in her first Little Theatre role.

LaVERNE ESHELMAN—"Harriet Peabody". LaVerne took part in operettas at Stadium, in plays at CPS, and appeared in "Heart of a City" last year on our stage. Brightens the Bridge Clinic office by day.

JOE A. DENN, JR.—"Jeremiah Bentham". An interesting newcomer to the Little Theatre stage. A former Stadium and PLC student, now working as a machinist in a local war plant.

LAURENCE W. BAXTER—"Henry Ames". A position with the Industrial Conference Board brought Larry to Tacoma this summer from Baltimore, Md. Recalls he was cast most frequently as the villain in U. of Pa., and Philadelphia dramatics some years ago. In "Village Green" he's a New Hampshire Republican—and you can't be any more Republican than that!

LT. FRED S. GILBERT—"Hubert Carter". If you saw Fred in "Private Lives" and "Heart of a City" you'll be looking forward to seeing him again. The war brought Fred here from Florida.

CHRIS HENDERSON—"Rev. Horace Shurtleff". Chris has turned over a new leaf, all right; played the bartender in "Anna Christie".

AL WERNER—"Walter Godkin". Best remembered as the man who held the watch on the "Man Who Came to Dinner". Also played in "Night of January 16th" and in one-acts.

MARIE EGAN—"Harmony Godkin". Last appeared in "Night Must Fall", and long active in Little Theatre.

EDWARD J. ARTHUR—"Rev. Arthur McKnight". We'll whet your interest by revealing that, while there are two ministers in "Village Green", Ed plays the good one! Last appeared in "Kismet" and "George Washington Slept Here".

SUSAN PRINGLE—"Abby Tate". A newcomer to our theatre from Everett, where she took part in school plays.

DILLER FRATT—"George Martin", town policeman. Diller is a veteran of many roles and jobs in the theatre, but you'll have to look fast to see him in this part.

BOB SCHMID—"Dawson" the photographer. Bob attended CPS sometime ago and admits having done some coaching and acting in the dim past.

ANN MURPHY—"Sally Post". A Little Theatre "find" from Aquinas Academy.

MEET THE TACOMA LITTLE THEATER!

DO YOU NOW THAT—

The Little Theatre has a membership of 1200 this year—the largest in its history? The Tacoma Little Theatre is one of the oldest in the United State? There are 60 children enrolled in the Children's Theatre on Saturday? Only three Little Theatres on the West Coast have revolving stages—Tacoma is one? "Village Green" is playing one night as a benefit show for the Orthopedic Society?

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Read the November Bulletin for notices of Decemer Play Reviews; also dates for tryouts for the next Play.

Children's Theater will present an entertainment in December.
