STORY OF THE PLAY

"The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker" opened at the Coronet Theatre in New York on December 30, 1953, with Burgess Meredith and Martha Scott as Pa and Ma Pennypacker, a story of the ultra-modern man and the old-fashioned woman. Then there are the children—two separate and complete sets, young lovers and frustrated elders. Brooks Atkinson, New York critic, referred to it as "An uproarious show drenched in laughter."

BY DOROTHY THOMAS

Director Dobbie says that Pennypacker is the first play that he has directed that really needed a traffic director instead of the usual kind. And he is so right—moving on and off stage—mostly on—you will find—

WALLY SCOTT (Pa Pennypacker) Wally claims that after a three-year vacation he feels like a novice again. But we see his twenty-five or thirty plays at TLT shining through his skillful portrayal of the amazing Mr. Pennypacker. No more vacations for you, Wally.

BETTE LANGSETH (Ma Pennypacker) We are delighted to welcome Bette Langseth to her first appearance at the Tacoma Little Theatre. Bette lives in Fircrest where she plays golf and bridge when she isn't busy working at Puget Sound National Bank. We hope that all these activities won't keep Bette too busy to entertain us again soon.

KIT CARSON (Wilbur Fifield) Kit hails from Pittsburg via Broadway where he understudied the lead in Tall Story. His natural aptitude for Wilbur can be partly attributed to the fact that he just played this role in Summer Stock. Kit has been acting since age ten and was the Penn State Champion in Comedy in High School two years running. We're glad to have you with us, Kit—we hope the McNeil Laboratories will need a drug salesman in Tacoma for some time to come.

DUCTS AND DE-DUCTS

Is your name on our Patron List? It isn't? Then this is for you.

The Tacoma Little Theatre Patron List is composed of contributors (in the $10 bracket all the way up to $500) who make possible such major improvements as a modern switchboard and lighting system, enlargement of the proscenium arch, improved ventilating system, and like projects.

The first two named have already become a reality, the third—overhauling the ventilating system to greatly enlarge its capacity—is now in the blueprint stage, the goal being completion in time for this year's Musical.

If you have ever sat through a steaming summer night's performance in our auditorium it is unnecessary to sell you on the need of this improvement. It, like others in the past, is designed for the comfort of you—the audience.

Why not add your name to the ever growing Patron List and lend support to one of the oldest and soundest community theatres in the country—The Tacoma Little Theatre.

Our own "Penny-Packers"—the Board of Trustees of the Civic Drama School—will be glad to accept your check. It's tax deductible, too!!!
